JOHNNY WONDER

Q. "WHAT HAPPENS TO A LOST BALLOON?"

A. The toy balloon sold at fairs that tugs on the end of a string is filled with a gas that is much lighter than the air around it. If you let the balloon go, it will rise and float away. A lost balloon doesn't keep on going forever. It will rise until the outside air is nearly as thin and light as the gas in the balloon. At this point the balloon will stop rising because the buoyant force within it equals the weight of the air around it. As the balloon rises, the gas expanded and swelled the balloon. The balloon will come down when it bursts or when the gas leaks out.

You can win a World Almanac if your question is selected. Send your name and age to JOHNNY WONDER, c/o this newspaper, P.O. Box 1336, (DA) Santa Cruz, CA 95061.
